Leaf Management

Allowing leaves to accumulate in your yard not only makes your lawn look messy but it can damage your turf as well.

Leaves create a shading effect that blocks sunlight and reduces turf growth. They also trap and hold moisture in the turf canopy which increases the risk of turf disease.

Winter Weed Control

A healthy fall application of pre-emergent herbicide will control winter weeds. In the coming months your lawn will become dormant and is at risk of winter weeds.

If left untreated weeds like chickweed, peppergrass, henbit and dandelions can steal nutrients from your grass and leave brown spots this spring.
